

October 3, 1991

RE: Letter of Reference

Maria Kulick Abramson, M.S.

Dear Whom It May Concern:

I am very pleased to write Mrs. Abramson a letter of recommendation as I believe her professional abilities are outstanding. She positively affects the quality of hearing health care which patients receive.

Academically, she has been trained by the founding fathers in the field of audiology, which is reflected in her depth of knowledge in basic science, hearing instruments, and diagnostic assessment for individuals of all ages.

Clinically, I am impressed with her ability to consistently obtain accurate and reliable audiograms on even the most difficult to test patients. This has repeatedly been invaluable particularly when medical decisions are based upon these results. I have appreciated Maria's untiring willingness to communicate audiologic results to physicians as well as other professionals.

With regards to fitting hearing instruments, her skill is second to none. Our patients have reported to me that they feel they received the very best care in current hearing aid technology. She has that special skill of turning a potentially negative situation into a positive one wherein each patient feels special because their particular hearing needs have been met.

Finally, on a personal level, Maria has demonstrated compassion and sensitivity towards patients. She extends her out-going personality to them with genuine concern for their needs. Her personal warmth coupled with professional expertise make her an asset to any medical team.

I highly recommend Maria.

Sincerely,

William F. House, M.D.